

Old books say that a table with three legs adapts best to different ground conditions, to variations in the floor on which it stands. With the 3rd Forum UNESCO Congress in Australia, this visionary, supportive, intelligent project will gain a third supporting pillar that will guarantee its emotional and intellectual stability for the future. First, there was Valencia, then Quebec with Dr. Dube as its driving force. Now in Australia, venue of the third Congress, Forum UNESCO will be firmly consolidated. For this purpose, we will strive to make this meeting in Melbourne a complete success. The competence and courage of the Deakin University organizing team led by Professor Logan, is our best guarantee for achieving this success.

We believe that we can count on this Forum as a important cultural initiative that will strengthen and unify those who are committed to letting the past have its say in the present. The past is the basis of our culture; it is the surface of this secure, strong table, at which we all sit to devise an act of love, and where the future, with the young in the vanguard, may be integrated with the legacy, the heritage left by those who have gone before.
